

You don't have to visit your favorite Chinese restaurant to get your fortune in a cookie. Who says you can't make your own cookies AND write your own fortunes at home? Here's a fun and low-cost cookie baking activity for the whole family – no matter what kind of cookie you choose to make.

Step 1: Select a cookie recipe on www.landolakes.com, mix the ingredients and get baking.

Step 2: Each person writes a fortune for each member of the family. Make them as thoughtful, clever and fun as possible – it's your chance to get creative! Here's a start:

For Mom: A member of your family will soon do something to make you proud.

For Dad: You shouldn't have eaten that donut this morning...

For Teen: Your messy room will someday seek revenge.

For Pre-teen: Your secret crush has been discovered!

For Child: You'll read five books this weekend and get a special surprise.

For Toddler: You'll make everyone laugh with your silly dance moves.

Step 4: One by one, family members read their fortunes out loud.

Step 5: The remaining family members guess which fortune was written for whom. The person with the most correct answers wins extra cookies (and doesn't have to help clean up!)
